Executive Recommendations

► 1. Improve Q4 Performance:

Q4 is consistently the weakest quarter across all years.

Recommendations:

- Launch year-end promotional campaigns.
- Prepare inventory earlier (before October).
- Strengthen retailer partnerships during November-December.
- Use customer segmentation to target high-value buyers.

Executive Recommendations

- ▶ 2. Leverage Q3 as the Peak Season
- Q3 is the strongest quarter every year, indicating strong seasonality.
- ▶ Recommendations:
  - Increase marketing activities during July-September.
  - Boost stock of top-selling products.
  - Introduce seasonal bundles and promotional offers.

Executive Recommendations

- ▶ 3. Enhance Customer Segmentation Strategy
- Insights show strong performance among:
- Female customers (55% of sales)
- Home owners (54%)
- ▶ Recommendations:
  - Strengthen female-focused product marketing.
  - Target home owners with smart home and tech products.
  - Utilize CRM-based targeted campaigns.

Executive Recommendations

- ▶ 4. Optimize Underperforming Regions
- ▶ Top markets: France, Saudi Arabia, UK
- ▶ Recommendations:
  - Increase investment in high-performing regions.
  - Review sales strategy in weak-performing regions.
  - Explore new regional expansion opportunities.

Executive Recommendations

- ▶ 5. Stabilize Inventory & Supply Chain
- Weak Q4 performance may be tied to stock shortages.
- ▶ Recommendations:
  - Increase safety stock before Q4.
  - Optimize supplier lead times.

Top 3 Priority Recommendations

- ▶ Improve Q4 Performance
- ▶ Leverage Q3 growth peak
- ▶ Break the growth plateau by expanding markets/products
